

Firework Safety Guidelines

- Store fireworks in a safe place.
- Wear safety goggles to protect eyes and woolen or leather gloves to protect hands.
- Never carry fireworks in your pocket.
- Alcohol and fireworks don't mix!
- Always keep children under adult supervision.
- Tend to livestock and pets in mind when shooting fireworks.
- Always read and follow all warnings instructions and labels.
- Never have any part of your body over the top of any firework device.
- Light all fireworks at arms length.
- Retire to a safe distance, once the device has been ignited.
- Never attempt to relight a firework which has previously malfunctioned (a 'dud'). Pour water over it instead.
- Burns should instantly be treated with cold water.

How to use fireworks

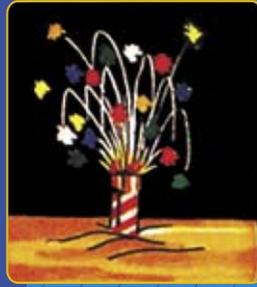

Instructions

FLUGELDAMARKAÐIR
BJÖRGUNARSVEITANNA

Fireworks are not to be sold to children under the age of 16 years. Adults should always assist with their merchandise.

Always place flare and cake fireworks on a stable foundation, keeping in mind that they require considerable space.

Make sure you have a sufficiently large area when choosing a place for shooting fireworks. It is suitable to keep at least a 20 meter distance from nearby buildings.

Do not stand too close when fireworks explode: the noise level can damage your hearing.

Fireworks, large and small, are not toys and should never be used for practical jokes. Many serious injuries have occurred due to this.

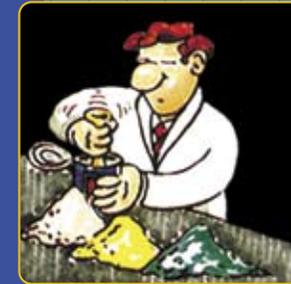

Never light fireworks while holding them. It is only permissible to hold specially marked hand-held flares.

Never touch or handle fireworks after having ignited them, as they can explode without warning. Pour water over them instead.

Children should be always supervised by adults when handling fireworks. Everyone should wear eye protection, even those who are just watching.

The most serious injuries involving fireworks occur due to tampering. It is extremely dangerous to dismantle fireworks and construct homemade explosives.

Always place rockets on a reliable 'launch pad' before shooting them.

Retire to a safe distance once the device has been ignited.

Tend to domestic animals when shooting fireworks. Keep your pets indoors, where they are most protected from loud explosions. Dogs, cats and horses are particularly sensitive to fireworks.

Always wear safety goggles
